

North Wilkesboro Police Chase ends in wreck

Written by

Saturday, 28 July 2007 18:48

North Wilkesboro Police Department has confirmed a police chase ended in a patrol car wreck this evening.

Few details are known at present, but the driver of the Suzuki police were chasing has been apprehended. A spokesman from within North Wilkesboro Police Department said the suspect is currently on his way to Wilkes Regional Medical Center to be checked out by medical personnel. The police chase was called in at around 10:50. More details will be made available as they arrive. Unconfirmed reports allege the vehicle was being pursued under suspicion of drunk driving.