

An employee at Kohl's in Wilkesboro faces felony theft charges after an in-store security camera caught her failing to scan some of the items purchased by her mother. The employee, 19-year-old Jessica Eller, admitted to having done the same thing for friends shopping in the store. By her own estimates, the amount of merchandise she failed to scan was approximately $300 worth.