

According to organizer Bernie Knepka, Crafts on the Green is the Saturday event to attend.

With over 70 artists, mostly local, the event features everything from quilting to woodworking. Great food, including homemade ice cream, as well as a magician and music, adds to the family atmosphere, he says.

It should be a cool evening. After all, Knepka says it's 70 degrees on the mountain when it's 90 elsewhere.

It's Knepka's first time organizing the annual event- and it's not just the artwork he's excited about.

Knepka is excited to meet the artists.

The event, in its 26th year, starts at 9 a.m. and lasts until 4 p.m. and takes place on top of Beech Mountain.
