

Accident near Brushy Fork Baptist Church

Written by

Monday, 06 August 2007 16:43

Rescue personnel are currently on the scene of an accident near Brushy Fork Baptist Church just outside of Boone.

While little has been released about the crash, there have been reports of injuries. Initially, medics on scene called for a helicopter transport- but that call has been cancelled. Listeners and law enforcement officials report traffic delays in the area. More information should be released Tuesday- Check back for an update by tomorrow afternoon.