

Attention, Mountaineers Fans

Written by

Wednesday, 29 August 2007 21:22

Friday might be the day to show your Yosef pride. August 31 is College Colors Day. It's about school spirit, College Licensing Company's Tim Hawks says.

The day is well placed in the calendar- on both Labor Day weekend and the weekend of the first college football game.

Nationwide, students, alumni and supporters will be showing off their team- and according to Hawks, the country needs more black and gold.