

New Hunting Opportunities

Written by

Sunday, 02 September 2007 20:00

Over 29,000 acres have been added to pre-existing or new game lands in the Tar, Chowan and Roanoke River Basins, thanks to the North Carolina Wildlife Foundation. For hunters, that means more opportunities to pursue game. For detailed information on all the new additions, check out www.ncwildlife.org