

Peace Corps Opportunity

Written by

Sunday, 16 September 2007 19:00

Appalachian State University students interested in opportunities with the Peace Corps are invited to visit an informational booth September 25 from 1-4 p.m. during Jobfest at the Broyhill Inn and Conference Center. That evening, between 6 and 7 p.m. at Room 421 in Belk Library, Peace Corps is having an information session. The corps is seeking candidates to fill overseas humanitarian positions.