

Blowing Rock Pet Show: Dress up your pet

Written by

Wednesday, 19 September 2007 19:00

The 19th Annual Blowing Rock Pet Show is a family tradition in the High Country, according to Watauga County Humane Society's Gilda Gordon. Registration starts at 10:30 on Saturday.

She's expecting pets of all shapes and sizes- even llamas.

Every pet gets a prize, she says. Awards include "best smile" and "best dance." She encourages pets to dress up.

Try out your pet Halloween costumes, she says.

Along with the show there will be a mini-parade and a fashion show. It all happens downtown at Blowing Rock's Memorial Park.