A man was injured in a single vehicle crash Friday night near Valle Crucis on NC 105, a crash that saw his SUV flip over, landing it a ditch. The NC State Patrol report has not been available, but Foscoe Fire/First responders arrived at the 7pm crash to find the man free from his vehicle —reports indicated he initially was pinned in—but he was suffering facial injuries. He was ambulatory on the scene, but was eventually placed on a backboard and taken to Watauga Medical Center for treatment just before the state patrol arrived on the scene.
