

Woman Killed in Saturday Night Crash

Written by Steve Frank

Sunday, 01 December 2013 06:24

A Wilkes County woman died Saturday night in a crash that injured two others in her car. The crash occurred just after 9pm on Germantown Road in Wilkes when 25-year old Keshia Renee Sidden lost control of her '99 Camaro, running off of the road to her left and overturning, according to the state patrol. First responders arriving on the scene reported that Sidden was trapped by the wreckage and that there was a faint pulse, calling for Wilkes Rescue to rush to the scene. The investigating trooper said, though, Keshia Renee Sidden died at the scene. The two others in the car suffered mostly minor injuries, according to the trooper, and he said his investigation was still underway late last night.