

Boone Chamber awards businesses

Written by Lauren Ohnesorge
Friday, 01 June 2007 04:12

The Boone Chamber of Commerce presented awards to area businesses yesterday.

The Community Advocate Award was presented to Bandana's Restaurant. The Employer of the Year award was awarded to Waters Brothers Construction. The company has 35 full time employees. The awards did not stop there, however. The Alfred Adams Leadership Award was presented to Appalachian State University. This is a significant coincidence in that Alfred Adams was not only a Watauga County banker, he was also an ASU trustee.