

A public hearing Monday at 5:30 may help determine the fate of the Hawksnest Golf Course in Seven Devils.

While the Cottom family is the current owner, the course has been closed since 2005. On the agenda Monday is the town council's possible eminent domain action to reopen the former golf course.