

Mental illness equity bill clears committee

Written by Lauren Ohnesorge
Wednesday, 27 June 2007 18:28

The Senate Health Committee cleared a bill yesterday that would require equity in health insurance coverage for mental illness.

The Senate version is different from the measure that cleared the House last month in that small businesses must also provide the coverage.