

Tot Lot: Could open next week!

Written by Lauren Ohnesorge
Thursday, 12 July 2007 20:54

Mulch and border timbers are being put in place at the Boone Tot Lot- well ahead of schedule, according to Parks and Recreation's Stephen Poulos.

That means the park could open next week.

Renovations include lots of fun equipment to replace the old wooden pieces.

Along with a seated teeter-totter apparatus, there are new swings and slides. A music station helps develop kids' creativity- and that's not all. It's truly a park for all ages.

One side has a structure designed for 5- 12 year-olds, and another section provides fun for 2-5 year-olds.

Even adults are excited about the slides, he says.

Tot Lot: Could open next week!

Written by Lauren Ohnesorge
Thursday, 12 July 2007 20:54

Complete with a walking track, courtesy of the Town of Boone, the park should be an exciting new place for kids- and parents- to enjoy.