

Banner Elk Fire Department gets a makeover

Written by Lauren Ohnesorge
Tuesday, 24 July 2007 20:00

Thanks to the budget, Banner Elk Volunteer Fire Department boasts a new coat of paint.

It actually looks like a firehouse, Romonoyski says- and that's a big deal because it's been 21 years since the last coat. Assistant chief Pete Romonoyski says the paint job was completed over the weekend and looks great.