

Water Main Break Closes WHS, Hardin Park

Written by Steve Frank

Wednesday, 10 October 2012 06:53

The water main break has caused school officials to close both Hardin Park and Watauga High Schools. The decision came down just as students were arriving, and is due to the inability to supply enough water for the student population and the impact on food preparation. Work on the site continues this morning. See additional story about water contamination on this site.