

A Wilmington woman was injured in an early Saturday morning wreck just out of Boone. The 2:40am crash occurred on Niley Cook Road just off of US 321 south of Boone, Trooper Alexander saying that Amy Alexandra Zatatski lost control of her 2008 Jeep and slammed into the embankment. Watauga Medics transported the 24-year old to Watauga Medical Center where she was unconscious when Alexander tried to speak to her about the crash. He filed both DWI and Left of Center Counts against the woman in the crash.