

Boone Man Dies From Wreck Injuries

Written by Steve Frank

Friday, 14 December 2012 07:14

A Boone man critically injured in a Saturday night crash died from his injuries. 66-year old Lowell Miller died Tuesday night at the Johnson City Medical Center, according to the State Patrol. Miller, traveling alone, crashed Saturday night on N.C. 194 North near Castle Ford Road when his vehicle ran off the road, hit a tree and landed on its side. He was airlifted to the Tennessee hospital and had been in intensive care since arrival.