

As Governor Pat McCrory staffs his administration, he announced an Appalachian State grad has been named Scheduling Director . Meredith McCullen joins the governor's team after serving as Scheduling Director for Governor McCrory's campaign and transition. She is a Clayton native and graduate of Appalachian State University and Suffolk University, where she earned a Masters in Political Science.