

Adults providing alcohol to minors could face a new penalty under a measure that won initial approval of the House.

Adults providing alcohol to minors can already be charged with a misdemeanor. The bill under debate would allow suspension of the adult's driver's license in addition to the existing consequences. The House voted 105-7 to the measure. A final vote is due next week.