Susan Gragg, coordinator for Art in the Park, is excited to announce the first juried art show is tomorrow from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m.

The event, in its 45th year, has been listed as one of Southern Living Magazine's top events in the southeast. Admission is free. The event is at the American Legion Grounds in Blowing Rock, but don't worry, parking won't be a problem. A free shuttle will take people to the event from Tanger Outlets.
