Tonight marks the 2007 premiere of a must-see event for the High Country: esteemed outdoor drama Horn in the West.

Written by Kermit Hunter, Horn is one of the oldest outdoor dramas in America. With the redcoats arresting and hanging so-called "regulators," it is no longer a safe new world for the men and women on the stage. There is only one way to go, and that is west. Shows are Tuesday through Sunday at 8 p.m. through August. Call 828-264-2120 for further information.
