12:30 p.m. - After getting pounded with snow and ice for months, the National Weather Service has no sign of snow in their seven-day forecast.

There is a 20 percent chance of snow showers this afternoon, but after that, a bit of a warm front looks like it will move through the region.

Tomorrow's high is expected to be near 37 degrees, but starting Saturday, highs will be near 50 degrees for several days.
