

UPDATED: Breitenstein leads Terriers to victory

Written by Mike Kelly

Saturday, 11 September 2010 21:30

Eric Breitenstein turned in another strong performance for the Wofford Terriers on Saturday.

The Terriers (1-1), who were bested by Ohio University in their season opener last week, defeated Charleston Southern 34-23 on Saturday in Charleston, SC. Breitenstein, who was an All-State performer for Watauga High, rambled for 97 yards on 17 carries and scored a touchdown.

In two games this season, Breitenstein has gained 148 yards and scored twice. The Terriers come to Boone to play Appalachian State on November 13. They will open the home portion of the schedule next Saturday against Union (KY) before an open date on September 25.

In other games:

Furman 45, Colgate 15

Navy 13, Georgia Southern 7

Tusculum 54, Western Carolina 30

Samford 19, Northwestern St. 7

Elon 55, Shaw 26

Jacksonville State 21, Chattanooga 17

Arizona 52, The Citadel 6