Five Mountaineers picked up SoCon individual titles Saturday, and Appalachian State University men's track and field cruised to its 18th Southern Conference outdoor title.

The Black and Gold scored 256 points compared to runner-up Western Carolina who finished in second place with 218.5 points.

The title is not only ASU's 18th in program history and second in a row, but is also the second straight Triple Crown and fifth in school history for the storied program. ASU is the only SoCon institution since 1975 to have won the Triple Crown, and Furman is the only other current conference institution to have accomplished the feat, winning its lone triple crown back during the 1961-62 seasons

Starting the day off with the decathlon, Jake Goodchild ran a new personal best time in the 110m hurdles, finishing fourth in the event with a time of 17.06. The mark moves him into fifth on ASU's all-time list in the event. In the decathlon discus, Goodchild took home the runner-up spot with a toss of 111-1.

The speedy 4x100m relay team made up of Dennis Moore, Justin Thomas, TJ Lockard and Landon Powell took home the SoCon title in the relay with a time of 40.29. The conference crown in the event is Appalachian's second straight and just fifth in program history.
