

Curry Transfers To Delaware

Written by Mike Kelly
Tuesday, 12 July 2011 12:10

Linebacker Jessel Curry leaves Auburn and transfers to Delaware.

Curry, who stands 6-foot-1 and weighs 214 pounds, played one season for the Tigers. He played in six games as a true freshman with nine tackles. And because he drops from the FBS level to the FCS level, Curry is eligible to play this season. He still has three years of eligibility remaining.

His father, Buddy Curry, was a linebacker in the National Football League and was co-Rookie of the Year in 1980.....Linebacker Branko Busick of West Virginia was arrested and charged Monday night for armed robbery. He is free on $25,000 bond.....And former Heisman Trophy winner Eric Crouch has signed with the Omaha Nighthawks of the United Football League. Crouch, who played at Nebraska, is 32-years-old. He was selected by the St. Louis Rams in the third-round of the NFL Draft in 2002.