The Scott Satterfield era officially begins Friday at Appalachian State University. Satterfield, who played for and coached at ASU during his career, was named the university's new football coach on Friday. He succeeds his mentor, the legendary

Jerry Moore, who did not have his contract renewed by the school on December 2. AM 1450 WATA will air the Scott Satterfield press conference live this afternoon at 4 p.m. Due to technical difficulties, the Scott Satterfield Press Conference, which did not air Friday, will air in its entirety Monday at 11:30 a.m. on AM 1450 WATA.
