

Lenoir-Rhyne University's Denzel Dillingham has been named to the 2012-13 All-South Atlantic Conference Men's Basketball First Team, league officials announced this morning.

Dillingham, a sophomore guard from Hickory, N.C., currently leads L-R in scoring (18.1 ppg) and three-pointers made (64) this year. Dillingham has also been named the league player of the week three times this season and is second on the squad in rebounding (4.5 rpg). Dillingham has averaged 19.6 points per game against league foes in 2012-13 and has scored 30 or more points in three contests as well. Dillingham's honor comes as part of the South Atlantic Conference's list of award winners that was announced on Wednesday morning.

2012-13 All-South Atlantic Conference

Men's Basketball Teams

FIRST TEAM

Antoine Davis, Carson-Newman

Chandler Hash, Anderson

Ishmael Sanders, Carson-Newman

Vincent Bailey, Lincoln Memorial

Jake Troyli, Lincoln Memorial

Denzel Dillingham, Lenoir-Rhyne

SECOND TEAM

Odell Turner, Wingate

Denzail Jones, Anderson

Tyrece Little, Catawba

Paidrick Matilus, Wingate

Dondray Walker, Newberry

Lorenza Ross, Lincoln Memorial

ALL-FRESHMAN TEAM

Keith Jumper, Tusculum

Elon Edwards, Catawba

Manzey Miller, Brevard

Mitch Riggs, Newberry

Tim Pierce, Lincoln Memorial

SAC Player of the Year: Antoine Davis, Carson-Newman

SAC Freshman of the Year: Keith Jumper, Tusculum

SAC Coach of the Year: Chuck Benson, Carson-Newman

Photo Courtesy: Denzel Dillingham, L-R Athletics