Sunday's series finale between Appalachian State University baseball and Elon has been cancelled due to heavy rain in High Country. The contest will not be made up. Appalachian State (25-18, 12-12 SoCon) and Elon (24-26, 16-10 SoCon) split their weather-abbreviated Southern Conference series at a game apiece. Appalachian returns to action on Saturday for a doubleheader at Gonzaga. First pitch from Spokane is set for 6 p.m.
