The Appalachian State University athletic department has announced its men's soccer schedule for the 2009 campaign.

The Apps will play seven home games this season. They will start things off with a pair of exhibition games against Lenior-Rhyne University on August 22nd in Hickory and East Tennessee State on August 29th in Johnson City, TN. The Apps will open the season at home against Emory & Henry College on September 1st. The Southern Conference opener will be at home against Wofford College on September 28th; and the SoCon Tournament begins on Friday, November 13th. ASU was 10-8 last season; 4-3 in the SoCon.
