

Friday night's ASU-Davidson baseball game rained out

Written by Mike Kelly
Friday, 27 March 2009 08:53

Game one of Appalachian State's three-game series with Davidson scheduled for Friday night has been rained out.

The teams hope to play one game tomorrow, but heavy rains could wash out the three-game set. Wilson Field at Davidson College doesn't drain very well. The Apps are 8-14 overall; 2-9 in the Southern Conference. Our next broadcast of ASU baseball on WATA will be on April 1st when High Point University comes to town.