The deadline is September 14 to apply for a Watauga Education Foundation Grant, but Melanie Bullord recommends putting in an application as soon as possible.

Teachers in any subject can apply for the grant- and the Foundation is looking for ideas that can be implemented year after year.

A teacher at Parkway School received a grant last year for a GPS system- the system allowed her students to learn mapping and orienteering.

The more creative, the better, Bullord says.

After all, finding creative ways to engage students in the classroom is what the program is all about.

The deadline for grant applications is Friday, September 14 at 4:00.
