

Local Photographer on Display

Written by

Monday, 03 September 2007 20:00

Local photographer George Rembert has been taking pictures for 55 years.

He especially likes to take Macrphotos in Ashe County.

Macrophotos allows him to do something unique with flowers on his farm.

He can get details you can't see from ordinary flower pictures.

For the month of September, Rembert's photographs will be on display at the Ashe County Public Library.