

Quilt Fair coming up

Written by

Wednesday, 12 September 2007 19:00

The Ashe County Piece Makers Quilt Guild is holding its quilt fair on September 21 and 22- and invite everyone to attend. Over 120 quilts will be on display- and some will be awarded ribbons, Brenda Cole says.

Festival patrons get to judge the quilts.

The event is from 10-7 p.m. on September 21 and 10-4 p.m. on September 22 at Jefferson Station in West Jefferson.

The guild is active in the community, Cole says- and frequently quilts for charity.