

1 out of 3 Americans Uninsured

Written by

Monday, 17 September 2007 20:29

A report on health insurance set to be released on Thursday found that one out of three non-elderly Americans were uninsured at some point during 2006 and 2007.

The report, released by Families USA, is primarily based on new Census Bureau data. The majority of the uninsured were in working families, the report says.