

Space Grant comes to ASU

Written by

Tuesday, 25 September 2007 22:57

For the second time, Appalachian State University is the recipient of a $98,000 grant from the N.C. Space Grant Consortium. .

The NASA sponsored program will benefit Appalachian's Department of Physics and Astronomy, who will use the funds for education outreach, travel stipends and research costs for undergraduate and graduate students' projects