

Storyteller honored in Boone

Written by

Monday, 01 October 2007 04:31

In honor of his achievements, including the N.C. Heritage Award that will be presented to him later this month, local story teller Orville Hicks is being honored today in Boone.

Mayor Loretta Clawson has proclaimed October 25 "Orville Hicks Day." The man himself will be at Town Hall at 2 p.m. We'll have complete coverage this afternoon. For more information in the meantime, call Town Hall at 828-262-4530.