Chancellor Kenneth Peacock announced yesterday that Patrick McCoy has been named new director of Human Resources Services at Appalachian State University, effective late this month. McCoy will oversee all aspects of Human Resource Services at Appalachian, including staff recruitment, wage, salary and benefits administration, employee relations, training and development programs, personnel policies and human resources information systems. McCoy has been an assistant human resources managing partner with the N.C. Office of State Personnel since 1999. He helped implement a new career banding classification and compensation system within the university system.
