

ASU Math Professor receives award

Written by

Sunday, 07 October 2007 19:00

Dr. Rick Klima of Appalachian State University's Department of Mathematical Sciences has been awarded the inaugural Wayne D. Duncan Faculty Enrichment and Teaching Fellowship.

The $1,700 award recognizes innovative and successful teaching in Appalachian's General Education program. Klima earned his PhD in applied mathematics from N.C. State University and joined ASU's faculty in 2002.