In the hotly contested mayoral and town council races in Boone, Mayor Loretta Clawson appears to have been re-elected, and Stephen Phillips, the apparent top vote-getter for council, may replace Bunk Spann.

The heavy voter turnout appeared to re-elect Dempsey Wilcox and Lynne Mason to the town council, with Liz Aycock and Bunk Spann close behind.

All results are unofficial until the addition of the provisional ballots. The election may not be over- Due to the fact that Mason and Wilcox did not receive 40 percent of the vote, Aycock and Spann both have the option of requesting a re-vote.

As of tonight, neither candidate had made a decision.
