

Tinted Window Crackdown

Written by

Tuesday, 09 October 2007 23:45

Drivers beware. Troopers are cracking down on tinted windows.

Troopers have been issued new meters to check the tint percentage- and violators could be ticketed. State law requires all windows in a passenger car to have 35 percent opacity.