It's going to a busy day at Boone Mall Sunday.

Wilkes native Eric Mathis and his company, Stone Silent Productions, is shooting scenes of his latest feature, Buried Beneath. It's a unique project, with a rather big name as its headliner. Scott L. Schwartz of Ocean's 11 fame is the star.

Believe it or not, Schwartz messaged Mathis on MySpace. A friendship emerged, and the two decided to work together.

Shooting starts when the mall opens Sunday, and Mathis needs extras. No promises, but if you're shopping Sunday, you could end up on the big screen.

Stone Silent Productions has been shooting the movie since June.
