

Leaf peeping week

Written by

Sunday, 14 October 2007 20:41

High Country experts are calling this leaf-peeping week.

Many anticipate fall foliage to peak this weekend, and crowds are expected. Blowing Rock Chamber of Commerce director Charles Hardin said businesses are gearing up for what promises to be a busy time for the hospitality industry. Not only are the leaves peaking, but the Woolly Worm Festival is also happening in Banner Elk on Saturday.