

Haunted Horn on tonight

Written by

Thursday, 25 October 2007 21:35

---

Hailed by many as the High Country's scariest ghost trail, the Haunted Horn at Horn in the West Amphitheatre continues tonight through Halloween from 7 p.m. until 11 p.m. nightly. It's being presented by both the Southern Appalachian Historical Association and the ASU teaching fellows. Hickory Ridge Homestead, located on the property, is historically haunted. Listen to our Halloween broadcast or check out goblueridge.net next week for information on the "real" ghosts that haunt the Horn.