

No cause yet for Foscoe fire

Written by

Thursday, 25 October 2007 21:38

---

A brush fire early yesterday demolished a vacant home in Foscoe.

The two-story house, located on Holloway Mountain Road, was destroyed before firefighters arrived at the scene. Initially, units responded to a report of a brush fire. The remains of the house were extinguished without incident or injury, and fire marshal Steve Sudderth still does not have a cause determined for the blaze.