

Roofer falls at Elkmont

Written by

Monday, 29 October 2007 19:00

A roofer fell fifteen feet from a construction site at the Lodges of Elkmont early yesterday afternoon in Avery County.

Few details have been released about the incident, but we have been told the victim was airlifted to Johnson City Medical Center. Elkmont officials expect to have a prepared statement by sometime early today. Stay tuned and checkout goblueridge.net for updates on this developing story.