

ASU: Man charged in sexual battery, assault

Written by

Monday, 03 December 2007 08:52

Appalachian State University Police have charged a man they believe to be responsible for two incidents over the weekend.

University Police received a report that a man assaulted a female student by grabbing her buttock in front of Doughton Residence Hall last night. It was later reported that a male matching the same description assaulted another female student in front of East Residence Hall by grabbing her arm when she refused to allow him inside the building.

University Police officers have charged 41-year-old William Anthony Nibblett with sexual battery and simple assault. Nibblett has been banned from campus.

Nibblett lists his home address as Martinsville, Virginia. University Police say he is living in a local hotel while doing construction work in the area.