

Escapee Caught By NC Corrections

Written by Steve Frank

Wednesday, 22 January 2014 06:38

The Department of Public Safety and local law enforcement found an escaped inmate from the Buncombe Correctional Center in his home county. Correctional staff discovered Anthony Riddle missing at about 9:00 last night. Riddle, 27, from McDowell County, serving two to four years for larceny and possession of a firearm by a felon was found about 10:30 this morning in Marion and was taken into custody without incident.