Boone Police are investigating a stabbing incident from late Friday night or early Saturday morning, and as of yesterday, were still seeking a suspect in the case. Police say there were still a lot of questions to answer, but what we know is that a man was stabbed at a Boone residence, probably in the early morning hours of Saturday, but did not immediately seek medical help, and it was some time later that he was taken to Watauga Medical Center where he was admitted after the loss of a considerable amount of blood. Police say that the nature of the incident was possibly domestic, and that their active investigation status has kept them from making more of a release on the incident. Cpt. Andy LeBeau said that a release on the stabbing would probably come today in the case.
