

More Smoking Restrictions Possibly on the Way

Written by Adam Hicks

Wednesday, 01 April 2009 17:47

State lawmakers tentatively passed legislation that would ban smoking from restaurants and other places of business that admit children.

WXII broke the story late Wednesday night.

According to the Winston-Salem television station, the N.C. House tentatively passed the legislation Wednesday evening with a 75-42 vote after the bill was changed to allow smoking in bars and other establishments that don't employ or serve anyone under 18 years old.